

I can picture
a lifetime of living my passion.

As an English teacher, I always encouraged my students to follow their passion. Now, I'm taking my own advice. I'm studying at McGregor because they helped me design a liberal arts program that cultivated my passion for the arts. Not a cookie-cutter curriculum – a program just for me. Now I'll be able to live my life the way I always pictured it.

And my story is just beginning.
